UNION UNIVERSITY

is . . .

Environment

To create a pleasant environment in which students are to prepare themselves for life's journey requires a personal relationship between a University and those who come there for instruction.

Union University has endeavored from the beginning of its establishment to create a Christian atmosphere in which healthy minds could develop spiritually as well as ripen in educational abundance.

Dr. William Penrod, Assistant Professor of Psychology, stimulates the student to think for himself in animated class discussions.

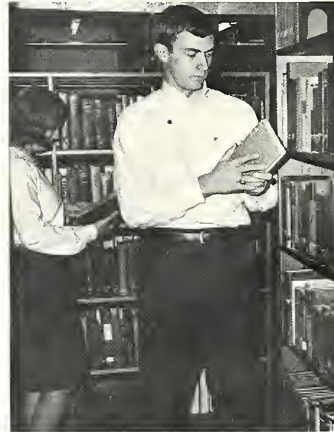

Registration involves class schedules and the filling out of endless forms.

On "Dress-up Day" during Freshman Week, sponsored by the Senior Class, there were many little girls and their teddy bears—Gail Dew represents one of the many.

Eddie Dougan hopes for success in his chemistry experiment.

Martha Richardson and Eddie Ross track down some elusive volumes of research in the library.

At a sorority rush party, getting acquainted is the first order of business.

Students cheer wildly at the conclusion of exams.

Students and Faculty

When the student has been placed in this environment, his capacity for study is challenged by the professors. Stimulating classes and on-campus contacts exemplify the close relationship of students and faculty. Students are given great responsibility to make choices as they seek to express themselves and to search for knowledge. Such scenes as these are typical of day-to-day rapport between students and faculty.

Dr. J. Hamilton McCoy, head of the Modern Languages Department, is often seen on the campus.

Dr. Glenn Esslinger, head of the Chemistry Department, and Jim Froyser discuss notes on the day's assignment.

A student nurse's practical learning takes place in the working environment of the hospital.

Highlighting the student nursing program is the Capping Ceremony.

Doug Jernigan, left, and Louis Criswell finally attain two piano harmony after hours of cooperative practice.

Looking for that elusive word which will fit the context and the space occupies Jerry Drace.

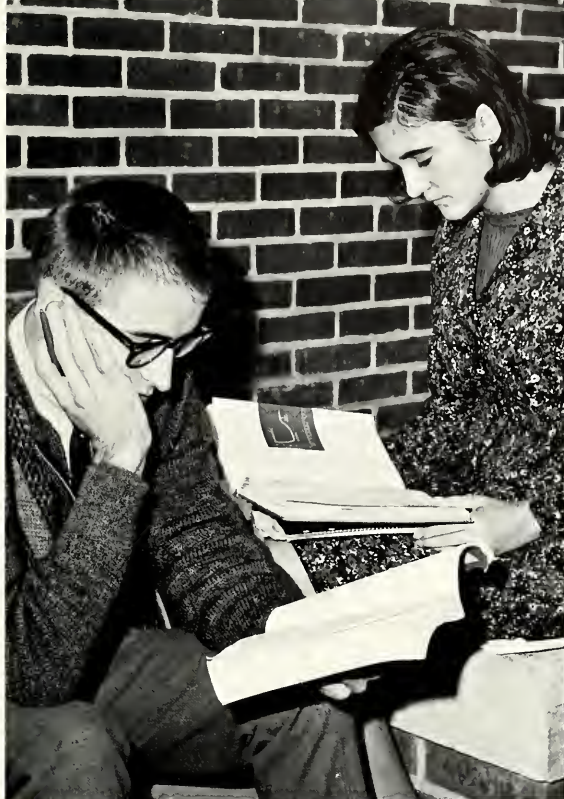

Learning Experience

The young nursing student carefully studies the professional know-how of her superiors as she carries on her daily nursing activities at the hospital. As a culmination to her learning experience, she receives the cap of her profession.

At the same time, a young man sits behind a typewriter pecking out a story which must make the publication deadline. This teaches the demands of accuracy and time schedule incident to a possible future job in the publications field.

In this working atmosphere, Union students learn to apply their education to everyday life and its problems.

Learning necessitates study, of which Jerry Barker and Judy Watlington are well aware.

Acquiring the skill of perfect balance requires hours of practice. Darrell Anderson watches Bill Johnson execute the head stand on parallel bars for Gymnastics class.

Under the watchful eye of Mr. Warren Kessler, Instructor in Art, Lance Walker (in the light clothes) starts his first test in Art Appreciation, finds the going getting harder as that answer eludes his thought, and finally with a sigh of resignation, turns in the completed work.

Leisure Time

After his class work, the college student finds himself with more leisure time at his disposal than ever before. This he may spend in various ways—he may participate in one of five Greek Letter national organizations on campus, he may join and work in a score of clubs and extracurricular activities, he may decide to just loaf away an afternoon, study for tomorrow's assignment, or read an awaited letter from home.

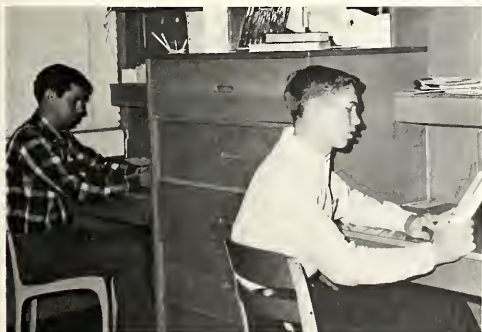

Chatting on campus are a group of students including Buddy Siler, left, Margie Bateman, Keith Dismuke, Melinda Rogers, and Kittie Northcott.

Helen Stevens pauses to savor that letter from home.

Singing and playing in the SGA sponsored Talent Show are Elaine Holley and Harriet Smith.

The quietness of study hours settles over the desks of Ike Palmer, left, and Danny Kelly.

David Huffman, Danny Davis, and David Wingo bring another load from home for their dormitory rooms.

Working Together

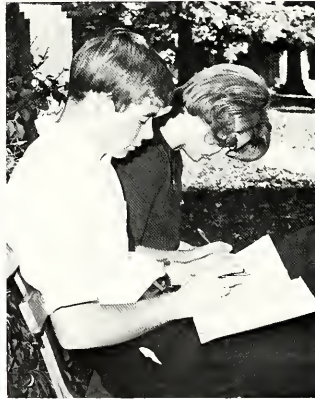

Student participation in extra-curricular activities means the cooperation of working and doing things together. Special events are featured every month of the school year, whether it be the appearance in concert of a famous singing group; the planning and hanging of numerous art exhibits; the many hours of strenuous and serious rehearsal which result in the perfection of a number of play productions of near-professional quality.

This involvement in activities on the campus gives every student worthy avenues of expression and the opportunity to become more skillful in social and cultural areas.

The Rope Dancers, the first play production of the year, features Bettye Sisco, the daughter, being comforted by her stage mother, Sharon Jackson Young.

Putting finishing touches on the lighting board for the appearance of The Lettermen, big-name entertainment who appeared in November, is Doug Jernigan.

Students are often seen studying together as Becky Darnell and Bob Blackman are now.

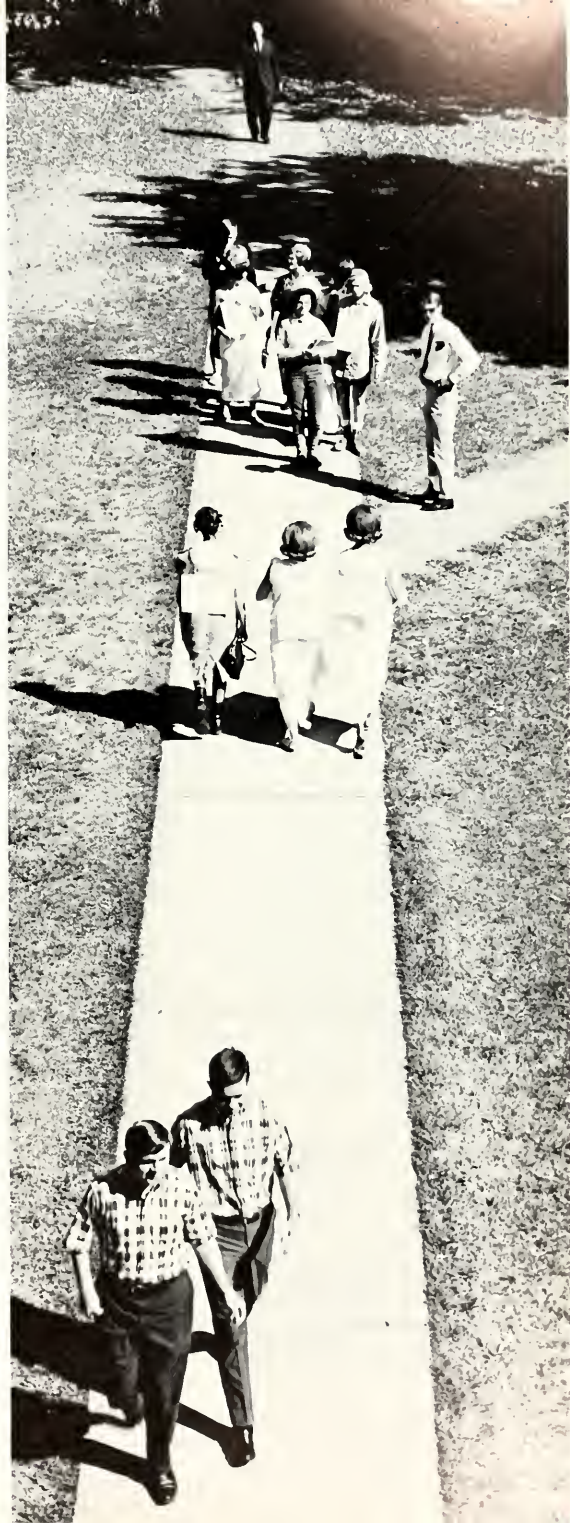

A painting in an art exhibit in the Art and Sciences building is being admired by Peggy Robertson and Charles Barnette.

Caught during a performance are a segment of the Union University Singers.

A moment between classes as some students traverse the walk between the Ad and the SUB buildings.

President of the Baptist Student Union, Gail Stewart, presides over the sessions of the BSU Retreat held every September to welcome new students and to give the student a spiritual uplift before the beginning of classes.

Ralph Broy, Chapel Coordinator and BSU Director, leads a group discussion on religion and world problems at a Vesper Service held on the campus lawn late one pretty afternoon.

A moment of quiet meditation is engaged in by one of the students at the local church of his choice.

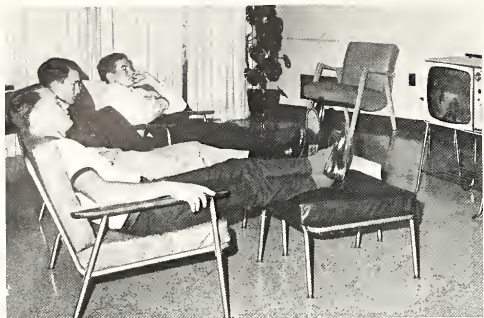

Spiritual Uplift

Though Baptist related, there are many diversified sects to be found on the campus at Union. The deep concern for the spiritual well-being of the students and for the Christian character exemplified by them comes from the influence of Christian teachers and the spiritual concepts which they value.

Regular chapel programs and a Religious Emphasis Week encourage participation in the many churches in Jackson and at the student's home church.

A full-time chapel director coordinates all religious activities and serves as a personal counselor to the faculty and students.

Whether it is the prayer of the team before a game or the serenity of a BSU Vesper Service, religion always has a part in the daily life of the Union University student.

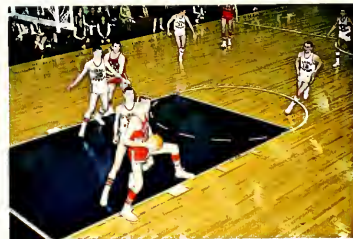

Mesmerized by a TV program at the dorm are Kerry Scott, Johnny Mills, and Mike Barnett.

Engrossed in a spirited tennis match are two competitive students.

The Lettermen—handsome and personable—were great hits at their fall concert.

Dave Gray, Union basketball forward, a second before he drove in for a lay-up tally.

Activities

Many activities are offered the student both on and off the campus. Whether it be a renowned artist or a baseball game, every one is eager to join into the spirit. It may be that a student will just simply enjoy a meal in the cafeteria, or that he will attend one of the many formal social functions, but there is always an activity available for him on Union's campus.

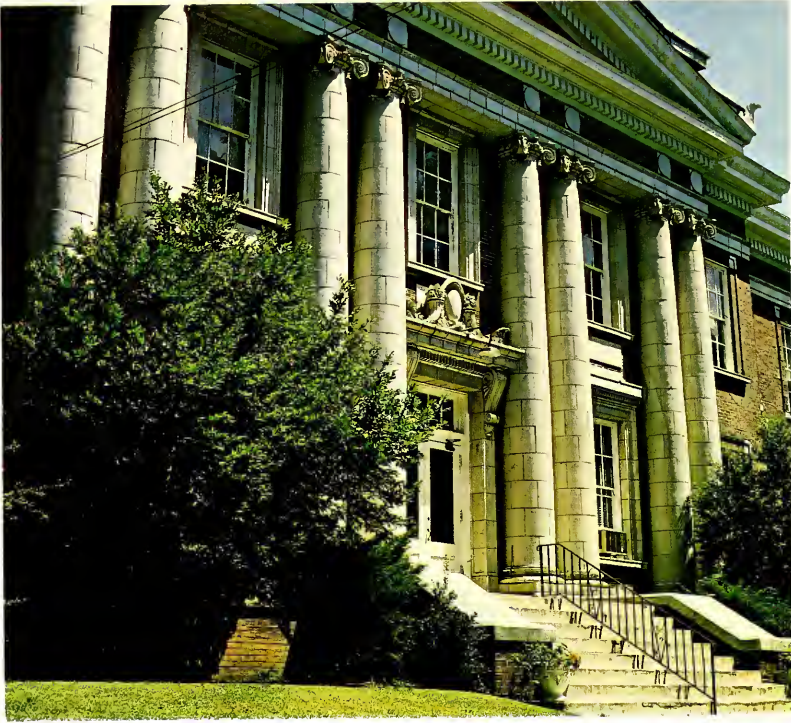

Gastronomic pursuits occupy some of the leisure time of everyone—the bright and colorful salad table at the cafeteria is part of the daily fare.

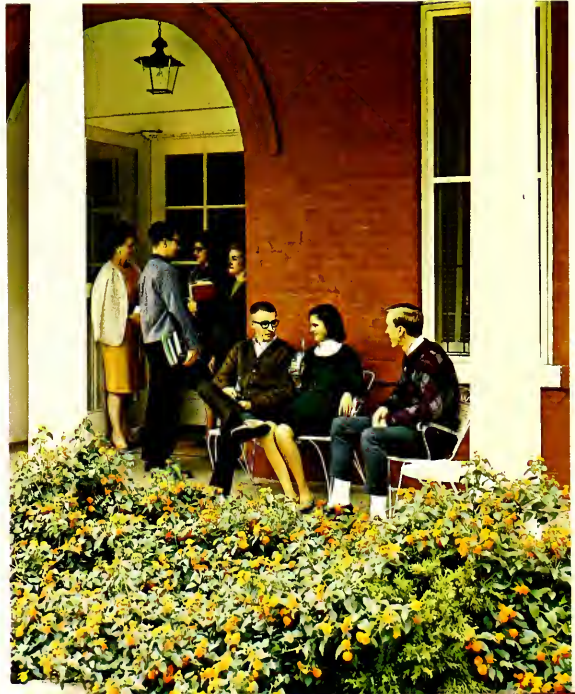

A social moment at the President's Reception as Sue Ellen Glisson and Don Kurts converse.

V.S.A.C. Champions and second-place winners in the NCAA District Baseball Tournament is the enviable record of the 1966 Union University Bulldogs baseball team.

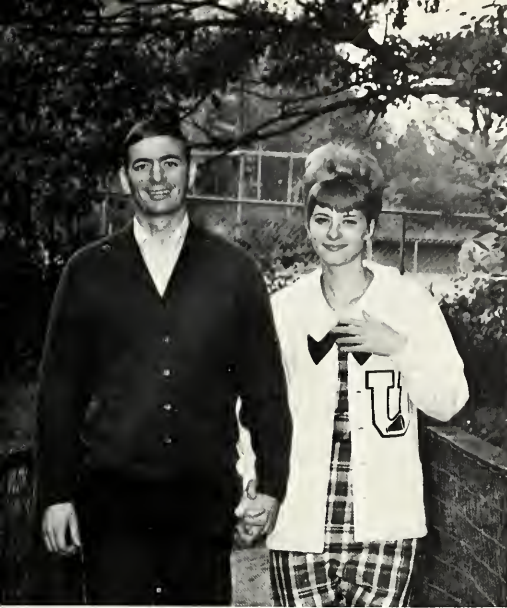

Bartan Hall, better known as the Administration Building.

Students lounge on the porch of Lovelace Dormitory between classes.

On a campus walk near the baseball field are Don Hill and Carol Roberts.

Three other campus buildings include Blythe Hall, girl's dormitory opened in 1966 (top); Adams Hall, men's dormitory, opened in 1895 (middle); and the Student Union Building completed in 1953 (bottom).

Campus Beauty

There is nothing like the beauty on the campus to add to the atmosphere of a university. At Union the architecture of the past is tastefully mingled with that of the present. Adams Hall reflects the traditional lines of earlier years while the new Blythe Hall has the freshness of contemporary design. While Union's buildings serve as examples of man's work, the towering oaks and the beautiful lawns represent the work of Mother Nature, and together man and nature has created a campus of simple beauty.

Achievement

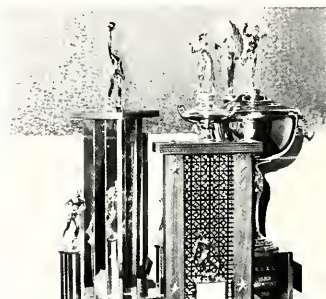

Achievement is important in today's world. The sense of accomplishment which one has after graduation from Union is great. Many outstanding students are now serving in capacities of leadership across the country, and claim Union as their Alma Mater. Whether it is winning a ball game or making a prize winning float, the spirit and sense of achievement is great among its students.

Typical of the many trophies which are being awarded to teams and individuals of Union University for excellence in many fields are these sparkling awards.

Academics

The pursuit of knowledge, the challenge of the mind, and the desire to excel in one's work becomes the abiding ambition of each student as he diligently labors over his books in an effort to achieve that end. Education is serious business to today's student, and the classroom efforts are put forth more than ever before, as he prepares for the future.

Capable administration leads university

While working toward the development of the institution, and while managing its academic programs, administrative leaders have seen the evolution of an excellent school of higher education which sets unparalleled attainments. The institution has maintained high ratings academically and has obtained high esteem by its supporters. The expansion of the university's facilities, though somewhat stunted by financial growth, have provided improved living and classroom space. The demolition and clearing of several older buildings on and near the campus have made it more attractive. The close contact which is maintained between administrative officials and students create an atmosphere for learning and working under high ideals and attainments.

Dr. F. E. Wright, President, 1963-1967

Dr. and Mrs. Wright

President Wright and Dr. Walter Warmath, Vice-President for Capital Development discuss plans for a financial campaign.

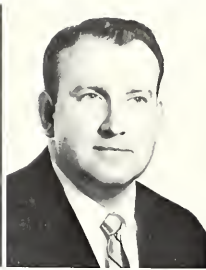

As a leader, inspiration, and friend, Dr. Francis E. Wright has served Union for thirteen years. He was for many dedicated years the Dean of the College and for a time the Acting President, before taking over as President in 1963. From Dean of Men at Baylor to Union University, he now has accepted the position as President of Jackson State Community College. The respect, esteem, faith, and love of the student body go with him to assure his success in the new position.

Music broadens cultural horizon

As one of the busiest departments on the campus, the Music Department is recognized as one of the top music schools in the South. Practice is the keynote for its students and performance-excellence, the key word for both faculty and students. The instructors come from a wide range of backgrounds, and provide the student with a varied and thorough knowledge of music theory, history, and performance. The touring organizations of the department bring wide acclaim to the university, and its graduates hold leading positions across the country. Early this year, Union was made a member of the National Association of Secondary Schools of Music.

The constant art of repetition is a necessity for piano students who spend much time preparing scales and compositions for performance.

Leading the Symphonic Band in preparation for its annual Spring Concert is Mr. Warner Hutchinson, director.

Solly Lundemo, organ student, spends many hours in the practice room and in preparing accompaniments for various musical organizations.

Dr. McCoy, Head of Department of Modern Languages, ably supplies the needed assistance to an inquiring language student, Hal Ellis.

Languages stimulate international interests

Through investigation of other cultures, the Modern Languages Department of the University seeks to foster in its students a cosmopolitan, yet international interest and sense of awareness in world affairs. Variety in faculty background and in classroom procedure are two of the stimulating facets of this department.

English department develops

Students often find that working together aids in writing term papers as Charlene Moore, and Tony Barnette find out here.

From the beginnings of Freshman English to the complexities of Advanced Grammar, the student in Union's English department is exposed to many types of literature and is given an opportunity to work at creative writing. The addition of several new courses allows the student to pick one of several fields of concentrated interest in the department and to explore and develop to the fullest his own talents.

University of Kentucky; M.S.E., Arkansas
State Teachers College; additional graduate work, North Texas State University

Psychology, education train leaders

As one of the largest departments in the school, the Psychology and Education department is well recognized for its record of outstanding students. The continual search for new and improved developments in two wide-open fields accounts for its fast growth. Members of the education field recognize Union as a top recruiting center for teaching positions.

The complexities of learning about the many facets of nursing become one of the major tasks for the student of nursing.

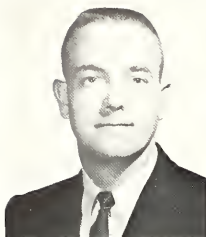

Many hours must be spent by the nursing student reviewing the wide resource material to be found in the university library.

Nursing program first in state

In its second full year of operation, the Nursing program at Union, first of its kind in the state, saw several nurses become full-pledged registered nurses. The ideal of training a nurse within the limits of a liberal-arts college gives her the ability to contribute a broad understanding of the individual as a contributing factor in the patient's health. The program uses the full resources of the Jackson-Madison County General Hospital, and rather than focusing on hospital service, the Associate of Arts Degree candidate's ideals are focused on academic and clinical excellence.

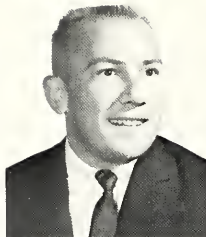

Highlighting a nurse's career is her first capping ceremony. The cap symbolizes her worthiness to serve her fellowman.

Mr. Donald H. Bishop
Instructor of Health and Physical Education; B.S., Union University; M.A., Eastern Kentucky University.

Miss Sandra Margan
Instructor of Physical Education; B.S., Union University; M.S., University of Tennessee.

Physical education sets new pattern

Body-building, one end result of Union's Physical Education program, is practiced consistently and thoroughly.

The Physical Education program is designed to include all students, both for credit and non-credit. Within the program are found students giving their most in physical agility. The University prepares its graduates in Physical Education for leadership in schools, parks, camps, and in service to private agencies.

Basketball is the major inter-collegiate sport at Union, and the top-ranked team battles against Southwestern in conference play.

Organizations

Education provides the basic foundations of man's learning, but experience supplies the remainder of construction of man's house of knowledge.

Realizing this, the organizations of Union strive to supplement the educational process of the school with varied activities that stimulate and exercise the mind and body by putting the education to a practical use.

Student Government Association

To serve as a link between the faculty and the students of Union and to sponsor various activities beneficial to both groups are two of the numerous tasks undertaken by the Student Government Association.

Through the SGA, the student has a voice in the direction of the college's affairs. It is in this organization that students' suggestions and opinions concerning the betterment of the school are heard and weighed.

Ray Cleek, as president, presides over the SGA meetings and oversees much of its activities. President Cleek is also in charge of "enforcing and maintaining the Constitution . . . of the Student Government Association".

Also under the direction and guidance of the SGA are several co-ordinating commissions which are responsible for the various phases of campus life.

The Athletic Commission is one of these. It is responsible for promoting the athletic program of Union. Another is the Special Events Commission which is in charge of planning and administering campus social events. These and other committees endeavor to promote and expand Union's spirit, by combining the scholastic life with the social life of Union's students.

In conjunction with its other obligations, the SGA backs various projects which its committees have undertaken. For instance, the Lettermen Concert, the Winter Carnival, the Miss University Pageant, Chapel films, and the All-Campus parties are results of the SGA's efforts for the students.

In this manner the Student Government Association strives to make Union University a well-rounded student community.

SGA successfully sponsored the Lettermen in joint session with Lombuth College SGA.

Members have busy year

Student court hears cases

STUDENT COURT

Justices on the Student Court are appointed by the Student Government Association as the judicial branch of student government. The court meets once a month to hear cases of student violation of rules. The chief justice is an ex-officio member of the Student Government Association and reports all court actions to the council.

ALPHA CHI

Membership in Alpha Chi National Honorary Scholastic Fraternity is open to approximately the upper tenth percent of the junior and senior classes based on scholarship, leadership, and character. Sponsors of the Tennessee Beta Chapter are Miss Mayme Hamlett, Mr. James Edmundsan, and Dr. Glenn Esslinger.

Top scholars gain recognition

Honoraries

The highest honor for a junior or senior on the campus is the election to a literary honor club. The twelve top-ranking junior and senior boys are invited to become members of the Nestor Club which holds monthly dinner meetings and faculty-student discussions. Thirteen of the campus's top-ranking girls belong to the literary honor club, Hypotio. Members hold monthly meetings to discuss outstanding works and to give original papers.

HYPATIA—FIRST ROW: Gail Stewart, secretary-treasurer; Lynne Murchison, vice president; Martha Campbell, president. SECOND ROW: Diane Jacobs, Kay Ferree, Jane Matthews. PHI MU ALPHA

Founded as a national music fraternity to promote the cause of music, Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia is one of the largest men's fraternities in the world. The local chapter has several projects to raise money for the Ben West Memorial Scholarship fund which is given to an outstanding musician each year.

Bob Womack, chapter treasurer, proudly waves money which the chapter made with their concession booth at the annual West Tennessee Solo and Ensemble Contest held every spring at Union.

The Rope Dancers showed the artistic abilities of two of its stars, Sharon Young and Betty Sisco.

ALPHA PSI OMEGA

A national honorary dramatic fraternity dedicated to the betterment of college theatre, Alpha Psi Omega membership is based upon attainment in the area of drama. The local chapter has the major responsibility for the sponsorship and production of Union's Theatre Season.

Beta Mu, the local chapter, is composed of students who have earned points for membership by participating in the Footlights Club where they worked on various phases of dramatic production. The chapter has monthly meetings which foster a keen interest in drama and which inform the members on different cultural developments in the field of dramatics.

PHI ALPHA THETA

Phi Alpha Theta is composed of juniors and seniors who have completed twelve hours in history and who have a minimum average of 2.1 in history. Phi Alpha Theta attempts to promote campus-wide interest in history and to challenge the student of history to attain high scholastic achievement. Sponsor for the Delta Psi chapter is Dr. R. H. Ward.

RUTLEDGE HISTORY CLUB

History majors and minors with a sincere interest in history may belong to the Rutledge History Club. Since its founding in 1929, the club has used monthly lecture meetings as a stimulus for subjects in current events. The club aims for high achievement in the field of history.

Gail Stewart, BSU president, welcomes a group of students at the pre-school retreat held annually at Camp Linden. The weekend affair gives students a chance to meet new friends and renew old acquaintances in a spiritual setting.

Union served as the host school for the Tennessee BSU convention which 900 Baptist students from schools in Tennessee attended. A group of these delegates discuss the event with Mr. Charles Roselle, state director for Baptist student affairs.

Religious activities involve students

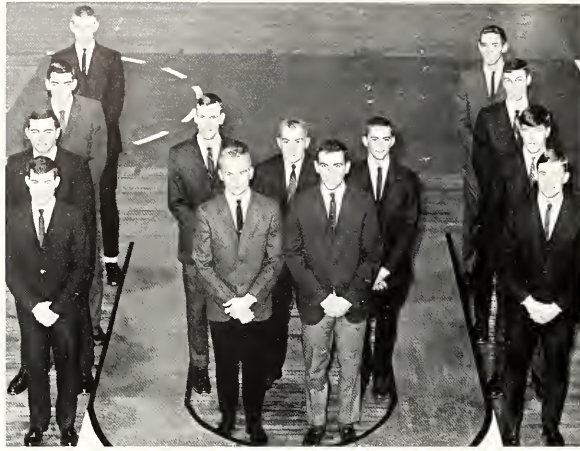

Religious activities are many and varied on the campus. Whether it be in the form of a chapel program, a BSU Vesper Service, or a private devotional, opportunity to express one's faith is provided. Many of the students are members of the Baptist church, and students become an active part of the local churches who make them welcome.

Clubs strive for more student participation

U CLUB

As one of the most active clubs on campus, the U Club strives to promote athletic activities. They are in charge of all parking during athletic events and run the concessions during all basketball games. Members are composed of those who have lettered in some sport while here at Union. The club highlights its year with its annual outing in the spring. Coach Bill Henry is the sponsor.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION CLUB

Stimulating the interest in Physical Education and promoting the girls intramural program, the PE Club is made up of girls majoring or minoring in Physical Education, and of those who take an active part in the intramural program. The club has many various projects including the Powder Puff Football game in the spring, selling condy at basketball games, and helping with an Alumni Athletic Reunion each year at Homecoming. The club also sponsors Teacher Appreciation Day on the campus. Mrs. Grace Williams is the club's sponsor.

Clubs give practical experience

YOUNG REPUBLICANS

Bringing politics to Union's campus last fall were the Young Republicans. This group in coordination with its elder cohort attempted to familiarize its members and students with the workings of the national government and explain the important role one can play as an active Republican. Members were given jobs at the polls and in the precincts during elections, besides their regular meetings.

STUDENT NATIONAL EDUCATION ASSOCIATION

To enlighten and prepare future teachers are the two basic purposes of the SNEA. This organization's members join together to further their study and experience in their chosen field of education. Many projects throughout the year give SNEA members a chance to come in contact with other educational clubs at other institutions. In April members of the SNEA attend the annual state-wide convention where the latest teaching methods are brought forth for the prospective teachers' enlightenment. One of the club's spring highlights is the annual reception held for all student teachers.

Interest

LINGVAE MUNDI CLUB

Students with a particular interest in foreign languages found the programs of the Linguae Mundi Club most challenging and entertaining. This club is devoted to stimulating an interest in foreign languages in general and in particular the different aspects of French and Spanish culture.

BUSINESS CLUB

Majors and minors in Business Administration, Business Education, and Economics were offered an opportunity to learn additional information pertaining to the world of business through the Business Club. This group provided programs such as panel discussions on business problems and business leaders from the area related their own experiences to the students. Field trips were also taken to surrounding industries.

SYMPHONIC BAND

Composed of approximately 50 members, the performing group gives school concerts and makes tours to area high schools. They appear on television in Memphis and give a performance in Memphis at the Cotton Carnival in the spring. Mr. Warner Hutchison is the director.

UNION UNIVERSITY SINGERS

Members of the Union University Singers are selected by audition in the fall of each year. The group, under the direction of Dr. John Hughes, gives several performances on campus and in local churches and takes an annual tour of several states, as well as performances on television and radio. A high caliber of music including both secular and sacred works is performed.

CARDINAL AND CREAM

Each succeeding year brings new advancements with the student newspaper. Budding young journalists test their wings in each issue and bring to the campus new and exciting comments on today's life. Once more the newspaper offices have moved, this time into larger and more modern quarters. The excitement of seeing each issue come off the presses gives each staff member an inner thrill of seeing a job well done. With the addition of several courses in writing and journalism, the interest in professional writing has become a new career for many campus students.

Jerry Drace, Current Events writer, keeps up with the latest breaks in the campus political situation and with the Student Government news.

Keeping the news and features up-to-date is a busy job for the staff. Typists include Donna Baker, seated, and left to right, Mortho Slover, Gail Doyle, and Sherry McNear.

Jan Honna, Assistant Editor, draws the layout for one of 208 pages in the 1967 Edition of LEST WE FORGET.

LEST WE FORGET

New offices, a new dorkroom, conference room and work room, provided ample space for staff members and editors of LEST WE FORGET. The race to meet deadlines continually faced editors trying to produce the yearbook. Starting in the spring of last year, the editors began planning this year's book. A workshop for members was held, and the fast tempo of work was begun. Pictures had to be scheduled, rescheduled, layouts

Emily Evans and Jane Stowe were often found at the bulletin board putting up pictures and scheduling club pictures.

Editors and Assistants who worked hard putting the book together included: Lynn Patton, Greeks Assistant; Judy Bynum, Greeks Editor; Lynne Murchison, Photography Editor; Emily Johnsey, Classes Editor; Mortha Dame, Art Assistant; Judy Watlington, Organizations Editor; John Barnes, Copy Editor; and Janice Hutchison, Personalities Assistant.

Seniors

Elected to serve as Mr. and Miss Union, Roy Cleek and Gail Stewart, seniors, reign over the Winter Carnival.

As editor of the CARDINAL AND CREAM, Robert Anderson spent many hours in laying out the newspaper.

Graduation exercises, held on the lawn, bring parents, relatives, and friends to the campus to witness the culmination of four years work by the graduating seniors.

Seniors prepare for graduation

The culmination of four year's work . . . or play . . . is about to end. No longer is there the young bewildered Freshman who set his bags down at college for the first time. Now it is the Senior who is ready to pick up his gear and strike out again. What will he do now? Where will he be going?

Will he be drafted . . . maybe he will join up. Where will he find a job? Will he attempt graduate school? What of marriage and settling down?

Some say that it is all over . . . some say that it has just begun!

Juniors

Lynne Murchisan spends time working on the Junior Class booth, which won third place, in the Winter Carnival.

Decorations on a booth at the Winter Carnival. Does it remind you of anyone at Union?

Juniors accept new responsibilities

Juniors are eager, serious-minded, appreciative of the past and aware of the future. They are about to fulfill their long-awaited desire for a college degree. The days are long . . . full of studying, participating in clubs, and dating that wonderful person who is able to share some of the hopes and joys of the week's activities. This year passes quickly, and the bridge between a questioning sophomore and a knowing senior is about to become a reality.

Sophomores face new challenges

Sophomores are suave and smooth—or more so than they were, as they come back to scenes and situations now familiar. Core curriculum requirements form a major section of course work, and there is the constant nagging question of "I wonder what I really should major in?" Survey courses give a panoramic view of many subjects, the whole adding to the kaleidoscopic effect as the Sophomore year of transition passes from the unsureness of the first year to the self-assured certainty of the third year.

Freshmen face new horizons

These are the Freshmen of 1966-67. They come to Union from varied backgrounds and from several states, but they all share the same frustrating and joyous experiences—moving into the dorms . . . learning to share living quarters . . . eight o'clock classes . . . meeting that new personality, the roommate . . . new classes, new professors . . .

fraternity and sorority rush . . . Freshmen Week . . . stimulating bull-sessions in the dorm and "The Dog House" . . . crossing new thresholds of thought . . . facing new horizons . . . everything, but everything has the adjective NEW. Maybe that's why they are labeled as "green" Freshmen.

Greeks

To have close friends is a unique experience, but to have a number of close brothers in a fraternity or sisters in a sorority who share equal ideals and purposes is a reward beyond comprehension.

To grow individually within the framework of friendship, to work together for service to the campus and community, to mold character, and to build scholarship potential—such are some of the goals of the Greek Letter Fraternities and Sororities.

Greeks have busy calendar

Setting the pace for Union's social life were the Greek organizations on campus. These fraternities and sororities from their beginning have endeavored to provide an escape from studies and serve as an outlet for service to their fellow-men.

Important dates on the Greek social calendar, as date parties, fall rush, homecoming, and All-Sing, provided the members the opportunity of fellowship.

Zeta Tau Alpha

This we believe . . . that a sisterhood of college women, founded on the highest principles and chosen from the top moral, social, cultural, and intellectual levels represents the zenith in unified feminine achievement. Such sisterhood challenges the finest facets of character and personality to the greatest attainment possible for the individual and for the college institution. Zeta Tau Alpha is the vibrant, living embodiment of this ideal.

This we do . . . we intensify friendship: we foster a spirit of love: we promote happiness; and we aspire to a purer and nobler womanhood.

As the Gay Nineties were drawing to a close, nine young ladies attending Longwood College, Farmville, Virginia, were bound together with such ties of intense friendship that they wished to perpetuate this relationship. They envisioned a sisterhood of lasting strength and ever-widening circles that would enrich the lives of educated women. With insight far beyond their years, the founders of Zeta Tau Alpha formally began in 1898 what is today one of the largest women's social fraternities in the National Panhellenic Conference. More than 45,000 women now wear the badge of Zeta Tau Alpha. Each year more than 1800 college girls are pledged to our fraternity, one of the top ten of the NPC groups.

Quality is the keynote of the membership policy. A Zeta has a sense of loyalty and devotion, accepts responsibility and appreciates the nobility of serving, seeks friendship in a circle of sisterly understanding and love, strives for self discipline and increased maturity, and takes pride in everything she undertakes.

Zeta Tau Alpha has always sponsored and generously endowed projects of service in many fields, and has pioneered in aid to its current philanthropy—that of cerebral palsied children.

Fraternity? To tell anyone about fraternity is a task too hard to imagine, for it is truly something of the heart. No one can say why he entered its doors or describe the life he found within. It is unlike any home or building he has or ever will enter. Within its walls have lived men upon men who had only the lust for friendship and brotherhood. Those who sought a dishonest seat found themselves out of place and thus outside its doors.

What do we find? To tell how warm you feel when you work together is a task for a poet. To describe the fun of intramurals, of parties and banquets, of plays, and just plain fun is left to those after us, for it is beyond our abilities. To many we are a strange lot who fight in defense of our groups, but they do not realize just what the fraternity stands for in our minds and hearts. Here an only child finds his brother to help him begin his mature life. Here men find home, where house mothers and brothers together make out of cold wood and stone a haven for men eager to learn of the world.

Lambda Chis become moving targets for many as they designed their booth for the Winter Carnival. A success financially, the booth gave target practice for many students.

Fraternities have set themselves up as a challenge to the changing world. Their social structure is still based on the essential element needed for peace—brotherhood. Lambda Chi Alpha rose to meet that challenge this past year by stressing its ideals which emphasize adaptability, co-operation, loyalty, truth, justice, honor, industry, Christianity, patriotism, morality, learning, and fraternity. Its members work together as a close-knit group and, through their combined efforts, serve in places of leadership on and off the campus.

Members of the local chapter, now beginning its sixth year on this campus, have participated in many campus activities and in local projects sponsored by Jackson civic clubs. Lambda Chi Alpha gives annually a trophy to the highest Greek organization scholastically on campus, and sponsors the May Day track and field competition in the spring. Members have worked together on house displays, booths for the Winter Carnival, and Homecoming activities, as well as varied date parties throughout the year. In addition to intramural, IFC and campus All Sings, the chapter highlighted its year with the Crescent Banquet in December and the Spring Splash in May.

Since its founding in 1909, Lambda Chi Alpha has grown until it is today one of the top fraternities in the nation. Their open motto, "Naught without Labor," indicates the determination and hard work of its members.

Danny Bouchillon and Sammy Tickle are entertained by brothers, Doc Reedy, Mark Luttrell, Rick Adams, and John Jennings.

So through the years may Sigma Alpha Epsilon grow, so through the years may the young manhood of the nation enter its widest portals. So through the years may the gleam of Heaven's sunniest skies illuminate the pinnacle of her wonderful structure, a structure not made with hands, an invisible temple whose foundation stones are human hearts and whose loftiest turrets lift up and up until they touch the skies. So may every one of her sons serve her with a love that shall bespeak her merit. Let us face together with heads uplifted the constellation in the Greek sky whose stars spell eternal friendship, while our feet shall tread the paths of fraternity rectitude.

Then from the voices of the nation shall come commendations and congratulations. The legislator in the halls of state shall see in SAE a force to help young men. The educator within the college walls shall see the growing intellectual vision of the student and know that mind of brother touching mind of brother has stimulated the imagination and quickened the mental poise. The parents of our land shall face our institution and shall say to Sigma Alpha Epsilon, "We gave you our sons in the first years of their adventure beyond the confines of their homes; we gave these lads of our hearts and you have had them since. What have you done for them?"

Sigma Alpha Epsilon need only be true to her ideals to respond proudly and unabashed: "We give them back with their minds touched by the Divine spark of a lofty purpose, their characters developed and chastened by contact with aspiring and noble companions, their hearts tender and sympathetic because they have shared the joys and sorrows of others. We give them back to you, trained college men ready to face life with minds like a diamond edge. We give them back to you, SAEs whose faith in the brotherhood of man could not be shaken though the earth slid from beneath them and, we give them back to you, Americans with all that word implies, lovers of their country, its soldiers if needs be, haters of snobbery, and before all the world, we SAE, have taken your boy and now we give you back — A Man."

Greeks work together

In an effort to promote a mutual understanding between the various Union Greek organizations, the IFC and the Greek Sorority Council were formed. Combining the efforts of the Greeks, these two councils successfully conducted fall rush and boasted the Greek Carol Sing which was the combined efforts of the Union and Lambuth Greek organizations.

Another phase of Greek life which demanded the cooperation of each fraternity and sorority were the intramurals. This extensive activity required many hours of planning on the part of each organization and served as a means of bringing the member organizations closer together.

Sports

The hard, fast drive for the lay-up, the second wind for that last fifty yards, the hard swing at the hurtling mass, and the digging-in for the first down typifies the constant effort required in the sports activities of Union.

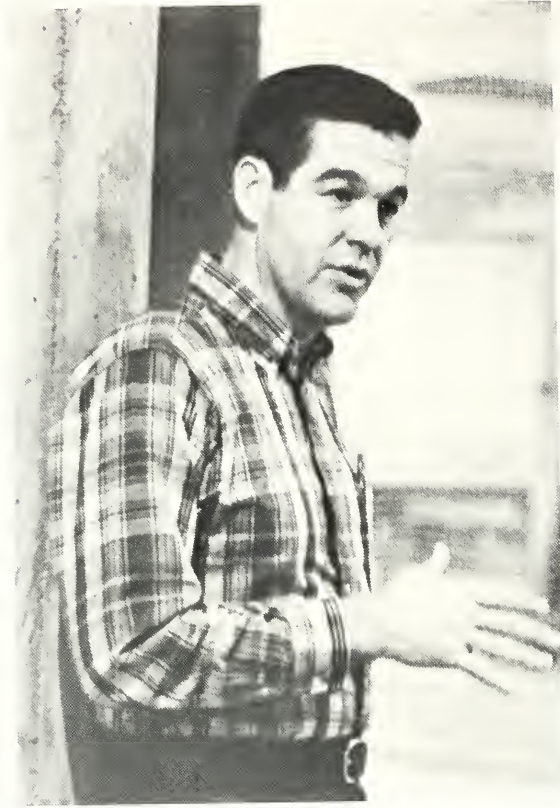

Sports serve as an outlet of stored energy, an escape from those ever-demanding studies, and a means of building the mind and body. With this in mind, Union strives to provide an inter-collegiate and intramural athletic program to fit the needs of every student.

Cheerleaders create spirit

Before each basketball game, the vivacious cheerleaders preceded the players onto the court as strains of "Dixie" swelled in the gymnasium. With an enthusiastic smile, a peppy jump, and a bouncy cartwheel the cheerleaders led the crowd in spirited yells to boost their team to victory. By enlivening the school's basketball spirit, they have aided in the heightening of the general school spirit.

Bulldogs start off slowly

The sunny skies of Florida weren't sunny for the Union University Bulldogs this year as they met with three defeats in the Sunshine State. Stetson was the first conqueror wounding the Bulldogs, 91-74. The next two defeats occurred at the Citrus Invitational in Lakeland, Florida.

Our next opponent appeared at the Union University gym. This was Austin Peay State who came from behind in the last four minutes of the tilt to overpower the Bulldogs, 74-68.

Union then set out to Memphis to challenge Southwestern. This proved to be a worthwhile excursion as the Bulldogs routed the Lynx 97-59 as Dan Rudesill worked the boards overtime, netting 26 markers.

Middle Tennessee State was next to arrive at Union's fieldhouse where they dropped the Bulldogs 66-56 in a hard-fought contest. Union had fallen behind early in the first half, but gave a brilliant comeback arriving within two points, at 32-30, of the Raiders.

Union, after the Christmas break, took to the road again. This time it was to Memphis State where a close defensive contest was fought with the Tigers gaining the 55-47 win.

Searcy, Karl Martin, Bill Hockaday, Dave Gray, Ken Hane, Gary Knupp, and Floyd Jacax.

Bulldogs

Returning home to lick their wounds inflicted by the Tigers, the Bulldogs made preparations for visiting Athens College. Athens and Union battled it out until the closing minutes of the tilt when the Bears put the contest out of reach, 78-72.

Ken Hane tips the ball to Dove Gray to begin the Athens game.

Jack Darlington executes a crisp shot in the Austin-Peay game.

In the next game Union out-rebounded, out-scored, and out-played Belmont to goin a 84-43 victory which proved to be the turning point in the Bulldog's season. Lonnie Searcy in the bout broke the school's rebounding record as he robbed the boards of 28 rebounds.

Bethel proved to be Union's next victim as the Bulldogs handed the Wildcats a 65-58 defeat. Union never trailed in the contest as the Bulldogs worked a far superior offense than the Wildcats did. The final minute of this battle was as hectic as one would see in any cage tilt. The Bulldogs hit the boards for eight points while Bethel captured six in those final 60 seconds.

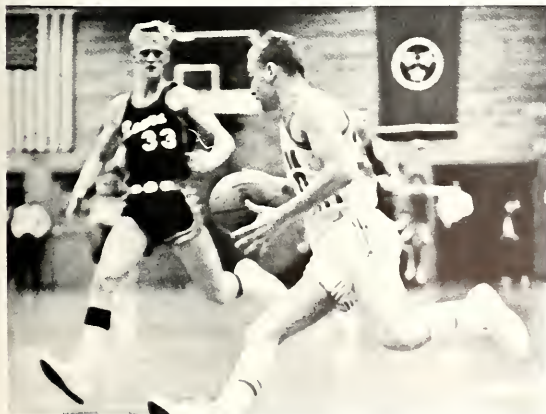

Following the schedule, the Union cagers took a trip to Martin where the U.T.M.B. Orangemen edged the Bulldog quintet, 61-57. The entire bout was a close contest as the units traded baskets. At the end of the half, Union held the lead, 28-26, but the Orangemen broke the invader's back with four straight foul shots in the final minutes of the battle.

Visiting Florence State was overpowered 105-65 by the Bulldogs in the next tilt. This was a one-sided game as Big U. completely outclassed the invaders from the South.

Another trip to Memphis brought a victory to Big Red as the Bulldogs slipped past Christian Brothers College, 60-59, in a real thriller. Dennis Wilson proved to be Union's "Man of the Hour" as he hit a 15-foot jump shot with one second on the clock.

Coach Bill Henry huddles with his cagers and explains some new evasive measures to be taken on offense.

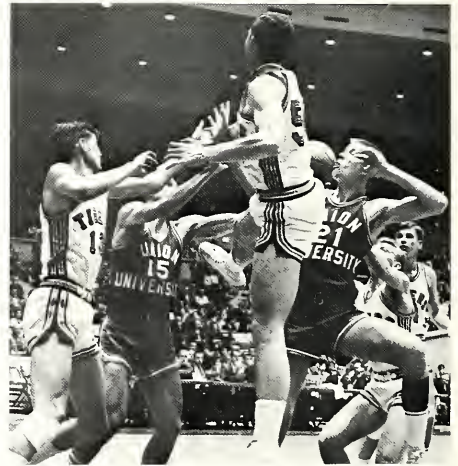

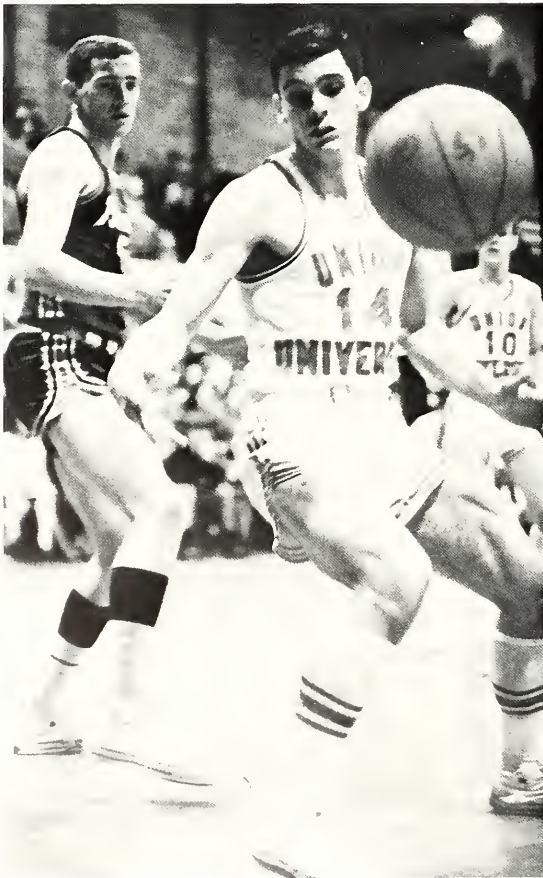

Attempting to spark a scoring drive, Steve Woodward moves around the opposition. The only senior member on the Bulldog squad, Steve has done an excellent job all four years.

In this close bout, Dennis Wilson gets a pass off to an awaiting Bulldog.

Coach Bill Henry and the Athens coach jump to their feet to give critical comments to their respective players after a floor mistake was committed by both units.

Dan Rudesill and Dove Gray battle with a horde of Memphis State cogs in an attempt to regain control of the ball.

Dan Rudesill evades his opponent in his efforts to gain the ball. "Rudy" was one of the Bulldogs' leading scorers, and he also led in rebounds.

Team batters the boards

Ken Hane charges past the Bears to hit the boards for two Union markers.

Dennis Wilson slips past a host of Wildcats to add two points to the Union total.

Dan Rudesill turns and takes to the air in an attempt to increase Union's winning margin. "Rudy" was one of the Bulldogs' main fireballs this season.

"Here I come, ready or not!" exclaims Dennis Wilson as he advances down court in preparation to start the Bulldogs through another series of plays which usually led to more markers for Big Red.

Dave Groy's mind concentrates on the nets as he cocks his arm and rifles the ball for a charity toss.

"Go! Go! Go!" or "We want two!" These are familiar cheers led by Jane Matthews, Leigh Luckey, Cheryl Lloyd, Jan Honno, and Carol Roberts—the "Bulldog Boosters"!

Hot-shooting attack nets three overtimes

Dan Rudesill again captured honors as he broke Searcy's rebound record in the game against Athens. He snagged 31 and hit the boards for 28 points. The U.U. cagers were downed 99-97 in the contest which led into three overtimes.

Dave Gray paced the Big Red quintet to its next victory over Bethel as the Bulldogs emerged 73-60. Gray's 23 point output was a big aid in the Wildcat defeat.

Union in its next outing on the wooden court dropped Southwestern, 58-52. Hot-shooting Jack Darlington and Dan Rudesill led the scoring attack for the U.U. cagers.

An upset was handed the Bulldogs as the Belmont Rebels gained a 59-57 victory. Big Red had an early lead which was pulled down by the Rebels in the late minutes of the first half. This proved to be a sufficient margin as the Bulldogs' outscoring attempt in the last half was not enough to make up for the deficit.

Surrounded by Bulldogs, Cooch Henry walks to the "red circle" reserved for those time-out conferences.

Tournament play

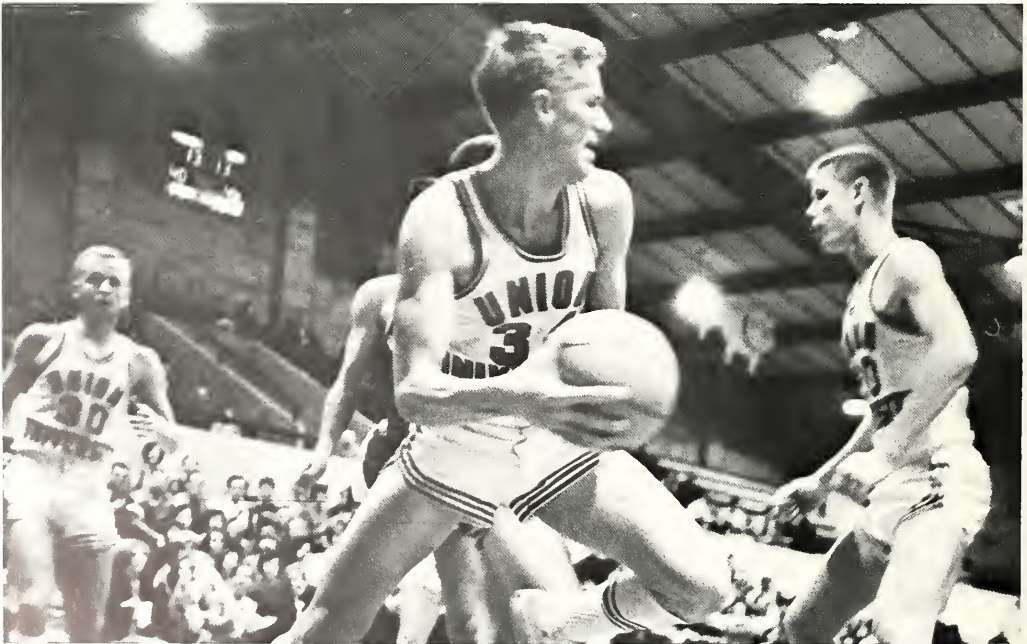

Dennis Wilson springs to the boards to gain a rebound after Jack Darlington narrowly misses the nets.

Dennis Wilson charges evasively around an opposing defender in an attempt to bring two markers to the Union side. Dennis served the Bulldogs in the capacity of guard.

Ken Hane has just robbed his opponents of the ball and has started to journey down court. Caught in the action were Steve Woodward and Dave Gray.

brings win, loss

Homecoming was next to come on the scene, and the Bulldogs' victims for this festive occasion were the Buccaneers from C.B.C. The Homecoming crowd was thrilled as the U.U. cagers conquered the Bucs, 78-71. For his action in this battle, Dan Rudesill received the coveted alumni Charles Schuler award.

One of the highlights of the Union cage season was the battle for first place in the Western Division of the VSAC. Union was tied with U.T.M.B. in this spot, and the contest to decide who would take the lead was slated for the Union fieldhouse.

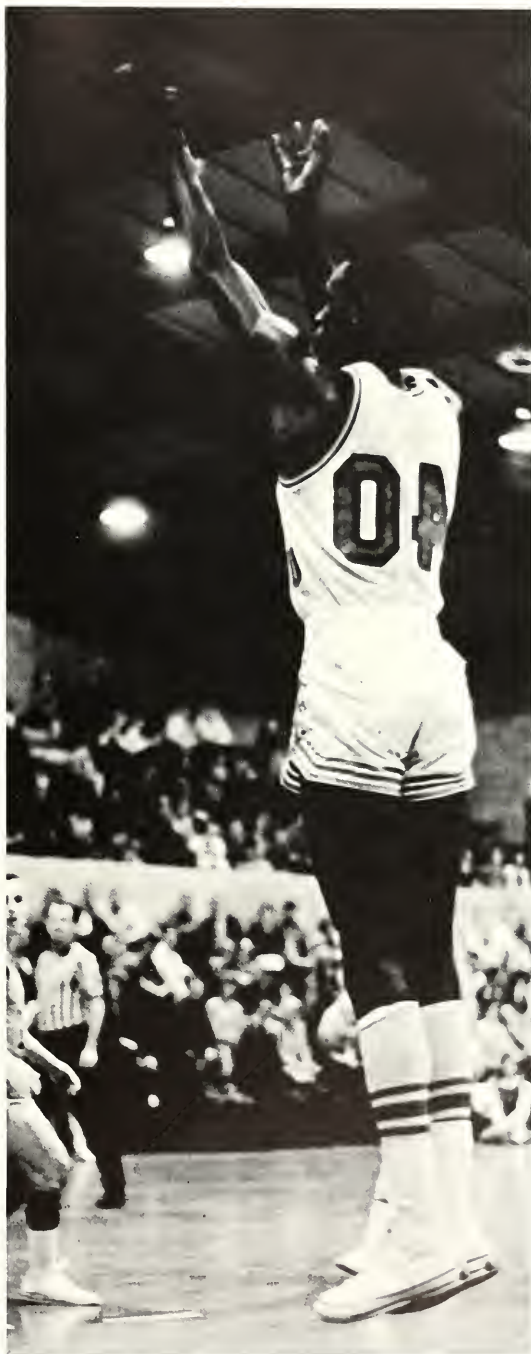

The tension-filled contest went to Martin as its field and free throw accuracy proved to be too much for the Bulldogs. Union gained an early lead, but the Orangemen came back to down the U.U. quintet, 88-68.

The last game of the season with Florence State found the team fighting off three second-half rallies to post a 78-72 victory. Rudesill accounted for 27 tallies and Union's assertive shooting at the free throw line kept them ahead of the always-threatening Lians.

Union downed Lincoln Memorial University in their first game of the VSAC tournaments 69-55, only to come back and take defeat at the hands of Tennessee Wesleyan 67-56. Dave Gray and Dan Rudesill were elected to the VSAC All-Conference team; and Mr. Ralph T. Donnell was presented a plaque for his service to the Volunteer State Athletic Conference. The leading scorer of the season was Dan Rudesill with a total of 418 points averaging 19 per game, and a leading rebounding record of 12.1 per game.

Dave Gray outruns an opponent and takes to the air for a lay-up.

Lonnie Searcy is "up and away" for a high-scoring tally.

Bill Kemp hurls another strike for the Bulldogs.

Bulldogs boast winning season

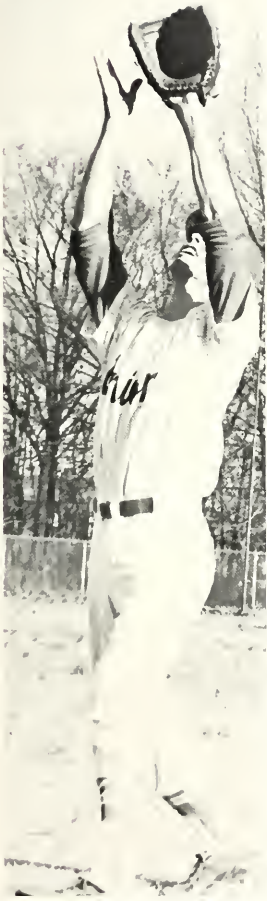

Ron Bradley fields a fast drive to the infield.

Coach Joe Loyman and Coach David Cundiff discuss the '67 baseball unit and its season.

Johnny Martin, second baseman, stops a ball to play it for another out.

Catcher John Lee signals to the pitcher.

Lorry McBryde steps back to snag the high fly ball.

Dennis Wilson connects the wood with ball. He proved to be one of the Bulldogs' main hitters.

Track squad zips for victory

Golf team swings new sport to campus

The Union University Golf team teed off with Bethel, Southwestern, Christian Brothers College, and Florence State during their 1967 season. This marked the first active team in several years for Union to support, and its endeavors racked up quite a record. This up and coming sport on Union's campus rounded out the year of athletics at the university.

Golf team members, coached by Bill Henry, were Woymon Smith, John Meyer, Robert Alderson, Mike Short, Johnny Allen, and Chuck Taylor.

Johnny Allen arches back to release his explosive power on the ball.

Waymon Smith looks to the destination of the ball before it takes to the air.

John Mayer takes his time and a practice swing before stepping up to the ball.

Girls volleyball got underway with the Independents vs. the Chi Omegas.

Intramurals add excitement to the college life at Union, as well as good competition. Groups work as a single person helping one to make new and valued friendships. The enjoyment of victory and the agony of defeat combine into training for good sportsmanship.

Intramural sports

Time out! While the ATOs and the SAEs play hard during an exciting Intramural game.

The ATOs fight it out with the SAEs.

The line of scrimmage is blasted in an intramural football game.

The SAEs hurdle up as a time-out is called during a heated battle to win against the Independents.

develop friends

The boys participated in the fall in an intramural cross-country meet.

Intramurals spur team competition

Essential to the extra-curricular life of any college is the opportunity that it gives its students to participate in intramural activities. Several teams are entered in the program which ranges from football to ping pong. It matters little whether a team wins or loses when the values of working together as a group are involved in competitive sports.

Chi-O Peggy Birmingham serves the volleyball to the opposing team while teammate Beth Peterson looks on.

As the shot is released opponents hopefully anticipate a rebound.

Jim Caffman attempts to block a jump shot by Buddy Siler.

Lance Walker develops his dribbling technique in an SAE intramural basketball game.

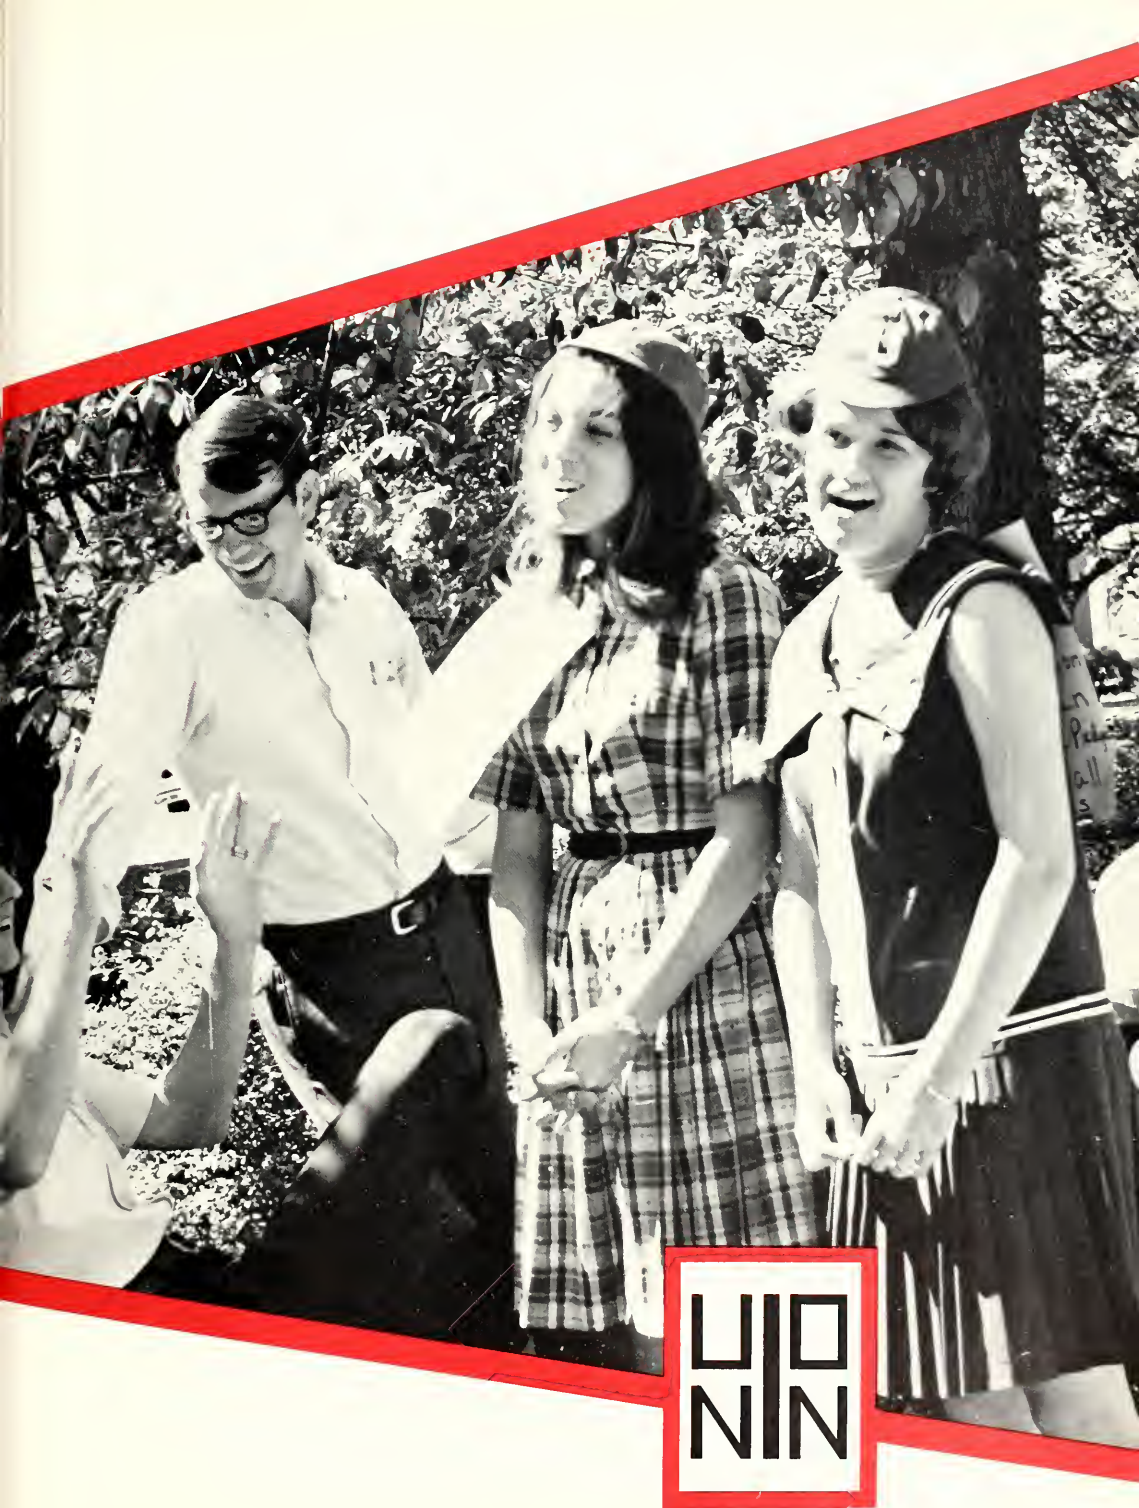

Both ATO's and SAE's were big on the boards in their hard-played intramural basketball game.

Campus Life

Life at Union, though centered around the classroom, projects into every phase of a student day. The campus becomes the student's community in which his work, his recreation, his church, his friends, and his solitude are separated by only a few steps.

This is how it all began ... meeting people

Every campus has its own idiosyncrasies. Union, too, has its own unique way of welcoming its students. From the exciting moment of moving into the dorm ... boys are allowed in the rooms at this time ... until the routine of a score of receptions wears away, one will have met many of the students and faculty on the campus. This close, personal relationship between the two groups is one of the outstanding merits of the university.

One student came prepared for any occasion and "mother" helps unload the many boxes and suitcases which her daughter has brought. Already the car shows signs of belonging to the "Union" family.

The long, hot line to see the registrar often produces frustrations and little hope of getting out of the sun into the building. Pictured below are Robert Anderson, Charles Hickerson, Ron Johnsey, Lynn Melton, and Steve Harbin.

"Boy on second floor" ... Watch out girls! It's moving day and boys can help girls move into their rooms. Typical of such is Rick Adams helping Janeen Randall move into Blythe Hall.

Martha Slover asks the aid of a friend to help her carry books upstairs to her dormitory room.

Welcome relief at last from the long registration line is sought by students who come to The Dog House in The Student Union Building for a coke or for just getting acquainted with new faces.

Meeting the official dignitaries at the President's reception is one of the first orders of business for students. Greeting guests are Roy Cleek, SGA President, President F. E. Wright, and Dean Charles Taylor.

Why does a freshman have to bow in such a lowly fashion? Because he is lower than a snake . . . that's why. During Freshmen Week, air raids provide plenty of exercise and ample opportunity to show the upperclassmen just how low freshmen are.

Everyone had a "shoot-em-up" good time during the Freshman Class sponsored party, held in the gym, for the entire campus. Music for the event was by the "Escapades" of Jackson.

No, it is not bedtime, nor is it every day that one must beg forgiveness from an upperclassman . . . only during Freshman Week will this scene occur again.

Dr. Willis H. Kimsey describes a vivid tale to Cecille Sampson and Mary Nell Thomas at one of the informal gatherings for students and faculty

Students from Union joined in with the city and county to observe Veterans' Day and marched in the parade which started NATO week in Jackson. During the week, outstanding international leaders of the National Atlantic Treaty Organization were present for lectures and conferences.

So many days so much to do

The year has only begun, and yet there are so many things to do. There is the inevitable Freshman Week followed this year by The Letterman Concert; the Miss University Pageant rehearsals, and occasionally some study time is squeezed in. There is always more to come later, but it is not so hard when everything is taken day by day.

The crowds come, they waited, they applauded wildly . . . for the sounds of The Lettermen, sponsored jointly by the SGA groups of Lombuth College and Union University.

Freshman Week gives everyone plenty of opportunity to show off their originality as Janelle Evans has done by pretending that she is a clock. Dr. McCoy's French class was the scene of Janelle's artistic triumph as she demonstrated her skill in telling time in French to her fellow classmates.

Freshman Class President, Keith Dismuke, proudly wears his "new suit" to class during Freshman Week sponsored by the Senior Class. Et tu bruté. On another part of the campus, Terry Cobb decided to go cosu-olly dressed to morning chapel.

Taking a break during the Miss University Pageant rehearsals were its directors Joe Kincoid, Wayne Johnson, and Patsy Patton. Much planning and practice went into the production held in mid-December.

Everyone deserves a break sometime. That's what the library is for, isn't it? Charlene Moore and Mack Hayes are spending their afternoon in Summar Library reviewing for an up-coming test.

Dr. William Penrad decided that his psychology class would be more attentive if they could go outside. It is not that there was such a shortage of classroom space, but the warm 70 degree temperature in December caused the outside classroom bit.

Students eagerly await autographs from one of The Letterman after the November concert held in the gymnasium.

Taking a break between classes, students gather in the Student Union Building lounge to pass the time away.

Nancy Richardson and Mr. Al Allen arrange display for Nancy's Senior Art Exhibition in the Art and Science Building during December.

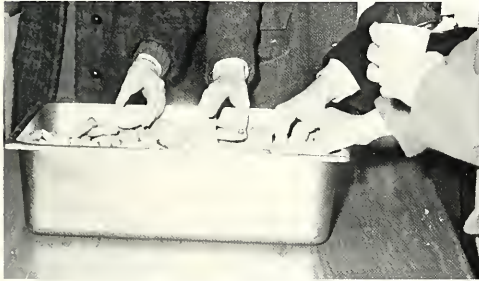

Pausing in the wings, Mary Carolyn Graves waits during rehearsals of the Miss University Pageant.

The crowds flocked to hear the Christmas Music Festival which heralded Christmas week on the campus.

In the swing of it; Christmas time was coming

Classwork had become very commonplace by now, and the welcome break brought by Christmas was sought by all. Groups all over the campus planned and staged elaborate banquets and parties. The week was heralded by the Music Festival and the lighting of the Cedar of Lebanon on the east campus. The music program was sponsored by the Music Department and involved many students in the performance.

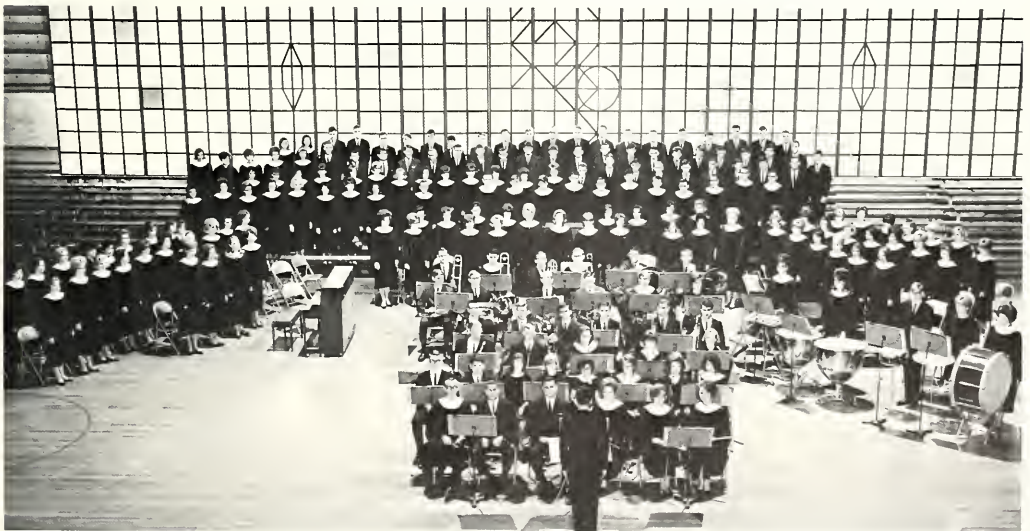

Caught in the cookie jar, after the lighting of the Christmas Tree, students enjoyed the warmth of the fellowship in the coterio.

Students took a chocolate break on one of the many cold nights during December.

The U.U. Singers, Chorus, and Symphonic Band combined forces for their annual winter concert. Dr. John Hughes, head of the department, stands ready to lead the group in "Sing Alleluia."

Night vigils build booths and displays

Band members of the Youngbloods entertain Greeks at the Zeta Finals Fling

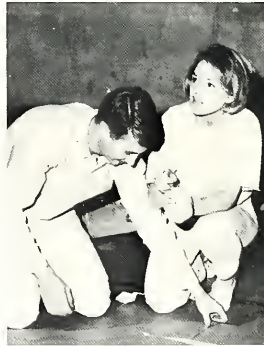

The Lambda Chis created a traffic stopper at the corner of Hays and Main with a timely bulletin board and revolving messages for all in the University's Homecoming.

Sherry Matlock Beardsley, Judy Haskins, and Patsy Denton discuss the success of the annual Winter Carnival.

The Zetas provided a needed break in the Exam week schedule when they held the Zeta Finals Fling.

Mary Katherine Stinson and Bill Pitts secure part of the necessary props for the Winter Carnival.

Making paper preparation for the Winter Carnival is Jim Ryal.

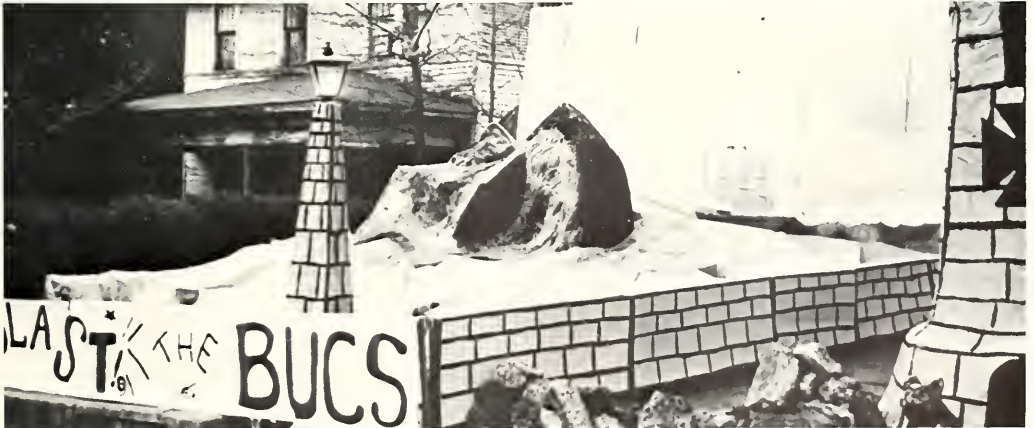

Mike Moate assures Dennis Wilson and Howard Todd that the Junior Class booth is the "only one" to attend.

Volkswagens are used for many purposes on American college campuses, only one of which is demonstrated here by the Sophomore Class, winner of the Homecoming Parade.

Lecturers, politicians, entertainers visit

If you like to sit back and listen, or if you like to study various musical techniques, this has been the year for you. A wide range of entertainers and lecturers have visited the campus. Madame Chenuault and several guest politicians provided programs. In addition to campus activities, the Jackson Symphony presented local concerts, and Community concert performances included Eileen Farrell, Calumbus Boys' Choir, Philharmonica Hungarica, Peter Nero and others. In addition to the Lyceum programs, which featured Mexican artists, S.G.A. and I.F.C. projects included The Letterman, Pozo-Seco Singers and the Dick Clark Caravan of Stars.

Julius Hurst, Republican candidate for Congress, visited the campus and spoke to several groups.

Little known to the students, the Pozo-Seco singers presented an enjoyable concert.

Noted Mexican Soprano, Guillermina Perez Higuera was guest artist during the Lyceum series.

Carlos Estevo, violinist, performed during the Lyceum series in Powell Auditorium.

Selvia Carrizosa, Mexican Guitarist, was outstanding as one of the artists for the Lyceum Series.

Really "beatin' the skins" was the drummer with The Letterman during his solo number.

Roy Blanton, well-known Democratic politician in Tennessee, was a campus speaker during the year.

A full-house crowd was present for the concert presented by The Letterman; capacity audiences also enjoyed the Paza Seca Singers and the Dave Clark show.

The Four Americans, a male quartet composed of members of the Lambda Chi Alpha Fraternity, won first place in the Ensemble division in the BSU All Sing. The group also performed at various church and meetings in Jackson.

Year comes to a close

Judy Hansford stands like a petite doll during the Best Dressed Contest, sponsored by the Cardinal and Cream.

Working on an art project, students in the art education class make a winter mosaic.

The crowds gathered in the field house many times during the year. There could always be found a basketball game or tournament, a boxing match, a gymnastics exhibition or a group of entertainers who would add life to the campus.

The end of the cafeteria line.

Taking advantage of the final days before exams, Don Johnson reads some outside reading for his English classes.

Relaxation between classes is a favorite pastime for students who gather in the coffee shop.

Giving an approving smile over their winning a first place plaque in the Women's division of the BSU Campus All Sing are members of the Zeta Tau Alpha Sorority.

Han Choi and Delores Hidalgo discuss life at Union as compared to their native homeland.

Friends are made to last for years

Congratulating Dr. R. H. Word, acting President is Dr. E. E. Deusner, President of the Board of Trustees. Dr. Word filled the vacancy made in the office when former President Wright resigned to become the President of Jackson State Community College.

Enjoying one of the several big-name concerts held at Union during the past year were Mayor and Mrs. George Smith; Dr. and Mrs. Don Ramage; and Dr. Charles Taylor, Academic Dean.

The campus takes on a new look as Spring arrives and students change classes during the day.

Graduation is an exciting time and many awards are presented. Dr. John Hughes presents a medal to an outstanding Bachelor of Music degree candidate.

Proving that three can study better than one, Ike Palmer, Kathy Dows, and Robert Thomas find a warm spot in the sun to review for a class.

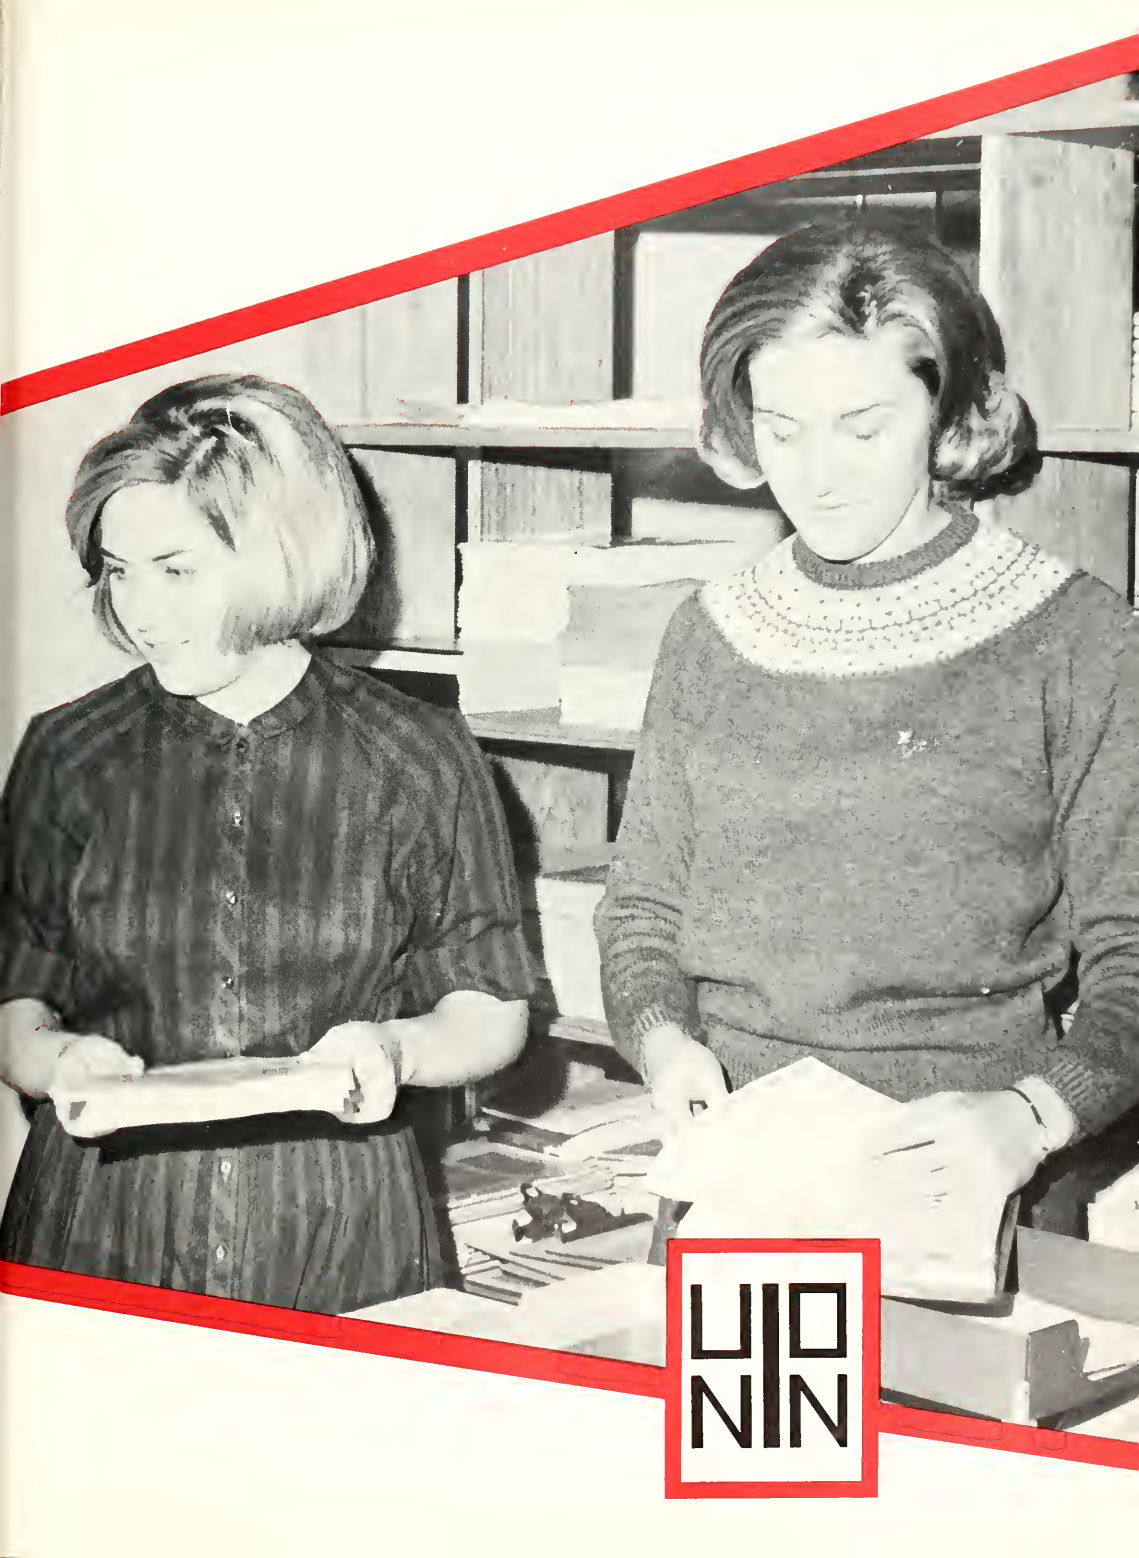

Friendships are made in the dorm that will last for life. Shown are students who enjoy the modern atmosphere in the new Blythe Hall dormitory for girls.

Every college student owes much to the wonderful people who support that institution. Certainly a yearbook such as the LEST WE FORGET would not have been possible were it not for its loyal advertisers. It is to these wonderful merchants and patrons that we give thanks for the success of this book and for the part that they play in our university.

Learning to operate visual aids equipment is one of the requirements of education majors.

Classes are over late in the afternoon and the Ad Building stands proud as it soaks up the late afternoon sun, waiting for another day when students will again fill its classrooms.

Kudos to . . .

The Fifty-first Edition of LEST WE FORGET didn't just come into being. It was the culmination of hours of planning, weeks of reading, months of actual production and the result of the work of nearly fifty people in our university. There were times when everyone was just about ready to give up, and there were times when the editors were thrilled at seeing proofs of the first pages sent in. Then there was the final satisfaction of knowing that late one Monday afternoon there would be no more deadlines to meet, for this would be the final shipment of pages. Weekends would soon be freer and afternoons and odd morning hours could again be spent in study. (Little study was done in the final frantic weeks.)

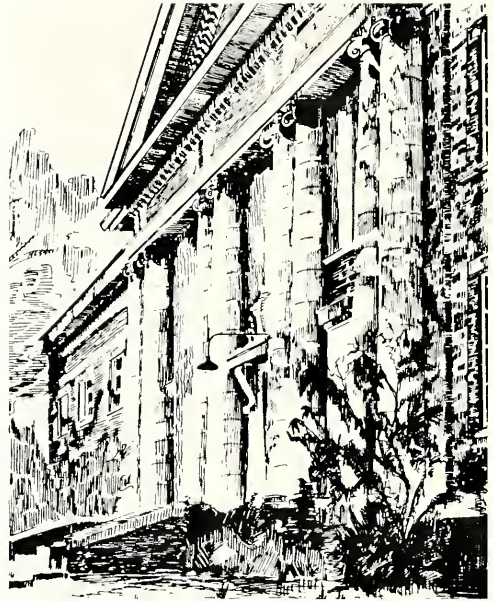

For the editor, this book has been a learning experience. Each day burst forth with new discoveries and a real challenge to capture the excitement of day-to-day routine so that it might become a part of our cherished memories.

The staff has been wonderful, but special thanks must go to several people including Mrs. Betty Faellinger, our faculty sponsor, who kept pushing and cajoling us until the final copy was typed and mailed. Mrs. Jessie Smith, the business staff sponsor, also put in many hours on our advertisement section. Jan Hanna, the assistant editor, was marvelous and was always on the ball with an answer for all the staff heads and members. In addition to staff editors and countless numbers who had a small part in assembling the book, I must also thank Mr. John Myers, graduate advisor, who helped so much in checking pages and doing extra typing.

The following deserve appreciation for their work on the 1967 LEST WE FORGET!

ACADEMICS: Janice Arnold, Carolyn Jenkins; PERSONALITIES: Patsy Patton, Janice Hutchison; ORGANIZATIONS: Judy Watlington, Jane Stowe, Susan Scott, Emily Evans; GREEKS: Judy Bynum, Jao Anna Miller, Lynn Patton, Carol Ann Martin; SPORTS: Buddy Tisdale, Linda Butler, Ken Flippo; COPY EDITOR: John Barnes.

CAMPUS LIFE: Beverly Buford; CLASSES: Emily Johnsey, Linda Goff, Harriet Smith, Nelda King; PHOTOGRAPHY: Herb Bivens, Charles Smith, Les Pappenheimer, Larry Beardsley; INDEX: Lynn Murchinson, Jane Deck, Alan Chamness; BUSINESS—ADVERTISING: Dick Radewald, Mary Houston Radewald; ART: Nancy Richardson, Martha Dame. Others who helped were Marsha Shakelford, Elaine Johnson, Monica Stancil, Geneva Lewis, Martha Narvell, Janice Lawrence, and Sue Sullivan.

This is the fifty-first edition of LEST WE FORGET. Recorded within the pages of this book are words and photographs which tell of the final days at Union University, as we the Senior Class have come to know them. Never again will there be a LEST WE FORGET which will tell the same story of nine happy, exciting, yet turbulent months at our university. Now, we too will herald the traditions of the past and boast as one of its outstanding graduates.

Never again will there be a student body with the same ideals and achievements as this one, who during their years here have been subjected to the many trials and problems of change. There were new administrative leaders of our university along with replacements in the faculty and staff. As in the past, the Senior Class will leave the campus and in its place will come a new group of Freshmen.

These new faces will be of a new breed. They will no longer be the average, run-of-the-mill students who have, through the years, attended this university recognized for its outstanding curriculum and achievements. In time, the new students may no longer be from the moderate families in the local community, nor come from sheltered homes, hidden from the realities of the world.

This fresh, distinct group of students, much matured in age over the past generation of Seniors will bring with them a new vocabulary and will pursue a never-dreamed-of-curriculum. They will be well-versed in politics, existentialism, and the new morality. They will be conversant with abstract mathematics, advanced micro-biology, and computer electronics; present theories of life will be "old hat" to them.

New student bodies will not find a stiff-necked institution which idly sits watching the world go by. They will not find outmoded ideals hindering their values and ambitions, for the students will not be satisfied with life as it is, but will always be searching for new ways in which to change it for the better.

The curriculum offered to them will differ in many ways from that which was offered to us. The traditional nine months of school will have long been a thing of the past, and the striving for academic excellence will be of major importance to these students.

We have tried to capture for you in this volume of LEST WE FORGET many of the cherished memories during the year. We are proud to become now a part of the past of Union University and thankful to have been associated with its growth and change.
